The Law Should Be Obeyed A question that I would like to have answered is: Why have an Ohio state boiler law at all when the state itself keeps on breaking it? The law says that a water-tube boiler fired by hand shall have doors provided with substantial latching devices to prevent them from being blown open by pressure on the furnace side. No latches will be found on the firedoors here, although ordered put on by the inspector several times. The law also says, When shutoff valves are placed on the pipes connecting a water column to a boiler, these valves shall be of the straight-way, outside screw-and-yoke type, and shall be locked or sealed open. My No. 1 boiler has a globe valve on the water connection to the water column and one on the steam connection. I know an engineer who has his fifteenth issue license, who says that an eccentric is shrunk on the shaft and that this plant is running condensing, when it is not. One night he let the main engine bearing run hot and melt out. He said it was caused by the day man taking up the crosshead and crank boxes and not telling him about it. Why not examine such fellows? When I started firing here, they were running two boilers, and when I came on I banked one and carried the load on the other. This...
