Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Four Years in Secessia: A Narrative of a Residence at the South Previous to and During the Southern Rebellion, Up to November, 1863, When the Writer Escaped From Richmond The following narrative was not originally prepared for publication. On the writer s return to Philadelphia, after her escape from Richmond, many partial friends, to whom she had related fragments of her experience in Rebeldom, suggested the propriety of her embodying the facts in the form of a Lecture, to be delivered at some future time. Acting upon this suggestion, the following pages were prepared, more as a lecture than as a narrative. After having delivered the lecture in many of the principal cities in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, c., it was suggested that the publication in pamphlet form would be of use, and also afford to the writer some pecuniary remuneration. The facts set forth in the following narrative are related as they occurred directly under the observation of the writer, without color or varnish, and may be implicitly relied upon. The recent culminating and glorious results to the prowess of our experienced Generals, afford convincing proof of the accuracy of the writer s conclusions. Our people may soon look for the restoration of our whole Union, and the Stars and Stripes, so eloquently apostrophised by the immortal poet, Drake, will soon float over an undivided country.
